

PRESS RELEASE – INTENDED FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

YES Communications Inc. Announces New Business Partnership

2 DECEMBER 2012, Coppell, TX -- Kelley Parlier, Owner and President of Dallas, TX based YES Communications, Inc., has announced that Jim Kettles has joined the company as Vice President and part owner. Kettles is a longtime helicopter industry professional with almost 35 years of extensive flight operations, management, and sales expertise.

Kettles' experience includes comprehensive flight time in military and commercial aircraft operated around the United States and Canada in missions such as offshore operations, air medical, corporate, law enforcement, news gathering and utility operations. In addition to his depth in the aviation sector, Kettles will apply his successful aircraft sales and consulting background along with marketing and advertisement design skills to further enhance the current and future business operations at YES Communications. Other initiatives for Kettles will include innovative offerings to better serve the client base at YES Communications. Jim Kettles will also focus on managing his aircraft brokerage and consulting company, Portlock Aviation, LLC (www.portlockaviation.com) also based in the Dallas/Fort Worth area.
